MUCH IN A NAME, SOMETIMES

Gouverneur Morris, the Novelist, Slept in Suites When Other Correspondents Didn't.

Private information from the battlefields of Europe indicates that Gouverneur Morris, the novelist, had a pinch over the other correspondents. In many of the hotels the correspondents were herded in one room at night, while Morris had a suite all to himself. Then again Morris was on friendly if not intimate terms with high officials and military commanders, while the other boys had to scrape around as best they could.

It was a mystery to the other scribes to understand how it was that Morris caught on so easily, got the best of everything and went hobnobbing with royalty, until one day a petty officer approached one of the newspaper men and said:

"Will you kindly tell me what state it is that Mr. Morris is governor of?"

The above calls to mind the fact that years ago George William Curtis, editor of the Evening Chat in Harper's magazine, was in Oberammergau to witness the "Passion Play." Unfortunately he was late in arriving at the open air theater and all the seats except those reserved for high officials were gone. The editor was in despair until he had a bright idea.

Approaching one of the high officials he said:

"Has the duke of Cambridge Castle or the duke of Cambridge arrived yet?"

"I think not," the official replied.

"Too bad," the official remarked, "but when they arrive would you mind telling them that Mr. —, one of the editors of New York, is waiting for them?"

The official bowed and said: "Certainly, sir, but would you not prefer to wait for them inside?"

Mr. Curtis agreed that this arrangement was much to be preferred to the one of standing outside, so he permitted the official to escort him down the front and seat him near a bunch of princes, dukes and other assorted specimens of royalty.

It's a great thing to be an editor of New York," the editor said in telling the story.—From the Editor and Publisher.

"DARK HORSE" MAY WIN G. O. P. RACE

REPUBLICAN LEADERS LOOK FOR PRACTICAL BUSINESS MAN TO HEAD TICKET.

COLEMAN DU PONT NAMED AS LIKELY CANDIDATE

Delaware Man Has Splendid Reputation as a Self-Made Leader in Constructive Business.

With the Republican convention only a scant twelve weeks away, the most popular topic of conversation in political circles these days concerns the G. O. P.'s choice of a candidate to run against Wilson.

The Republicans will probably go back to old principles and look for a candidate who will command the support of the same army of voters who elected McKinley, what a wave of patriotic common sense swept the country, and business men by the hundreds of thousands marked the streets demanding a practical government. It is interesting to note that the name of General Coleman du Pont, of Delaware, has been repeatedly mentioned recently as a man eminently qualified for the nomination. To those who look upon the government as a "big business" concern (demanding the same sort of a trained business man, the name of General du Pont carries a strong appeal, for there is no man more qualified to handle the big problems of today than the man who made a leader in constructive business. Moreover, both the public and private record of General du Pont will stand up well under the searchlight of political opposition.

General du Pont was born in Kentucky and started his working life in the mines of the Elbow Grass State. He stands today as one of the few successful men who have acquired their positions by methods that will stand scrutiny. He has been a proponent not a stock jobber. He has never antagonized any class of people. Capital and Labor alike admire him.

Without self-advertisement he does more charity than do most men. He is an ardent advocate of good roads and believes that a really perfect system of highways will enhance the farmer's income and reduce the cost of living to the cities. He has built roads and given them to his state, always with a sound business scheme to perpetuate them and save them from being a burden to the taxpayers.

He comes from a family more American than modern family identities with the building of the nation since the Revolution. His grandfather was Thomas Jefferson's most valued personal friend and adviser in the time of great need during the dark days of the Republic.

The great Power Company with which he has formerly identified has supplied our government with all its powder at a price always named by our government officials themselves and never by the company.

Because of his great executive ability and high standing in the business world, some of the shrewdest political minds in the country consider him as being one of the most likely "dark horses" for the Republican nomination. They point to the fact that his success in life would eliminate any need for a friendly Colonel House, or any other financial influence standing over behind the presidential chair. Nor would he be compelled to take orders from any man or group of men.

Another factor that the supporters of General du Pont are pointing to is his knowledge of military affairs. For sixteen years he has been identified with the military of his state and is thoroughly alive to the necessity of preparedness. He has also had practical training in politics, having been a delegate to the national State and National conventions, and serving as a member of the Republican National committee for many years.

It is the opinion of the friends of General du Pont that is pointing the way for him to the nomination. For it is conceded on all sides that the country is in a state of confusion at the close of the European war and will be business problems, and will be business problems, and will be business problems.

As a manager of constructive business, and as a man of vision, Coleman du Pont stands in a class by himself.

IN THE NATION'S COUNCIL

In a time like this, when the wave of prejudice against the black man is sweeping over the country almost like wild fire, it is time for the Negro to look and see who his friends are, who are the fair-minded men that are in public life or who are holding positions of honor and trust, whether in state or nation. We find that Hon. L. C. Dyer, representative from the Twelfth Congressional District of Missouri, has always been our friend, in Congress or at home. Prejudice is born of ignorance. No man can be prejudiced towards another when he has at his command such a volume of information as is contained in a speech delivered in the Nation's Council by Mr. Dyer.

When Congress was considering an immigration bill and the welfare of immigrants, Mr. Dyer said:

"During this debate not much has been said concerning one large part of the population of our country. I refer to the colored people. That this people should receive patriotic and careful consideration, I propose to point out briefly at this time."

Here Mr. Dyer points out the education, wealth and patriotism of the colored man of this country.

We need such men in our municipal government; we need such men in our state government, and we need more men like Mr. Dyer in the councils of this nation, someone to point to our good deeds.

During his speech Mr. Dyer said:

"I have not been able to go into the matter fully, but I commend to the members of this House a careful study of this great race of people, their history, their progress and their future. Let us consider carefully in legislating, to the end that every opportunity may be given them to advance in the various pursuits of business. The same help should be given to the colored farmer as to the white farmer in making him acquainted with the best and most up-to-date methods in agriculture as well as in the various other trades and ways of business and the professions.

"The same consideration should also be given the colored people in the education of their children. They should have good schools, good teachers, and the necessary facilities for teaching should be provided. There should be trade schools, agricultural colleges, and the most modern and up-to-date methods afforded them for taking their places in the great avenues of business.

"I do not believe it is necessary to point out the fact that the colored people of this nation love the country, its flag and its institutions as well as any other Americans, but for the benefit of some who perhaps do not know how patriotically the colored man has stood by his country in the hour of danger, let me call your attention for a few minutes to some things that have been done by the colored man along that line."

Here Mr. Dyer tells of the patriotic deeds of the colored soldiers from the days of General George Washington, calling attention to the first martyr, the Boston Massacre, "Crispus Attucks," and the gallant charge of the Ninth and Tenth Cavalry, the 24th and 25th Infantry, in the battle of San Juan Hill and El Caney.

In time of peace, Mr. Dyer said:

"No less have the colored people shown themselves worthy in times of peace. There are on record many instances of heroism displayed by them, and many medals for bravery have been awarded to them in time of peace as well as in war.

"I am one of those anxious to do everything in my power to help and assist these 10,000,000 people to progress and become of greater use and benefit to themselves and to the nation. I want to see them enter useful occupations and want them to have the opportunity to fit themselves properly for same. To that extent Congress can and should render the necessary help and assistance, and the states of the union should also do their part, to the end that proper consideration for the worth and achievement of the colored people may be realized and fulfilled."

The Negro race throughout this country are not unmindful of our friends. They will also remember those who are false and our enemies.

Since the masses of the colored people in this city have shown a spirit of resentment on account of what they call "hypocrisy" practiced by the present City Committee, it is said that some of the city bosses have hung a club over the heads of colored city employees, with the effect that several petitions are being circulated by the "boys" asking colored voters to sign, thanking the Republican City Committee for what they did to them on February 29.

"When thou art smitten on the one cheek, turn unto the smiter the other." Justice, where art thou?

Mr. Richard M. Bolden, who was appointed delegate to the National Defense meetings of mayors that met in this city a short time ago, seemed only to have one thought in mind, and that was to do something for his race.

We need a man to speak for our people in all councils affecting the welfare of all the people.

The framers of our American Constitution were political philosophers and prophets. Though it was framed in the midst of Negro slavery in America, yet the fathers refused to allow the words "slavery," "slaves," "Negro" or "white man," or "race" to appear in any of its articles or sections because they foresaw, like the prophets of old, the coming of the great Messiah of Freedom.

They meant it to be a constitution to govern a country, not part free, but all free; where all citizens were equal in rights; where a man's civil immunities and rights of property could not be restricted by his race, color, religion or by state boundaries.

Upon this broad proposition all the courts must finally stand, and it matters not how many judges may decide the Negro has no rights which a white man is bound to respect. The courts should be and must be above the intimidation of race hate or race domination.

The action now instituted against the Segregation Law in the United States District Court forecasts victory for our cause.

The segregation measures not only violate the several very important clauses of our National Constitution, but also of our State Constitution. It was ignorance of constitutional law, blinded by race hatred, that instigated the segregation measure. It will not stand; it cannot stand; it must not stand.

You cannot prepare a country for war by proscribing its loyal citizens in time of peace. One of the most unquestionable facts of modern history is the unflinching and the unfaltering loyalty of the American Negro in all wars where the honor of the American flag was endangered. Years ago his reward was complete citizenship of this great nation, but now they reward him by disfranchisement, "jim crowism" and segregation. Is this fair? Are we citizens in war and aliens in peace?

Good schools and commodious playgrounds seem the slogan of our Board of Public Education. In this respect they are doing a most magnificent part for the Negro in the city. The block between Cottage, Maffitt, Pendleton and Goode is to be converted into a playground and will make a very convenient place for the pupils of the Simmons and Sumner High. Good work.

The rawest piece of legislation yet asserted in American jurisprudence is to base a man's right to live in a block upon his color. His being a law-abiding citizen and having legal possession cuts no figure.

We stand upon the Constitution, both State and National, when we say that we have the reason and right to expect that a temporary and permanent injunction will issue against the Segregation Law and it will be a dead letter.

ST. JAMES NOTES

Presiding Elder Council Entertained

The Presiding Elder Council convened at St. James A. M. E. church, Tuesday, March 7th, at 10 o'clock a. m., Bishop Parker presiding. They were in session two days, adjourning Wednesday night. The bishop and his cabinet expressed themselves as highly pleased with the entertainment they received. Regardless of the fact that the pastor knew nothing of the Council coming to St. James until seven days prior to their arrival, the loyal members arose to the emergency and served meals in the Sunday-school room, which was beautifully decorated, that would have satisfied the appetite of an epicure.

On Sunday, March 12th, St. James held its second quarterly meeting, which was a complete success spiritually and financially. Rev. Brooks, pastor of Wayman Chapel, preached a soul stirring sermon after which the holy sacrament was administered to 27 communicants. Truly this is the Athens of African Methodism in this great city.

Free Auto Service
To My Store

"I am now offering free automobile service to my store. I am doing this to induce you to inspect my stock and make business bargains. I am now showing three well known makes of pianos. The best since 1875. The Thompson, the Josie French and the Lehman. Be careful. Don't buy inferior goods. Don't purchase any piano without a positive guarantee. Buy from a manufacturer who knows his goods, who can guarantee them because he makes them. Don't stay away, come on. I have pianos as cheap as $100 and as high as $1000. I can meet all competition. When you make a purchase, make it with me and I will guarantee you a bargain. Help me to develop my store, it means colored employment, colored enterprise. Call me 1789 N. if you wish me to visit you or call at my store. You are cordially welcomed."

Mr. W. M. Lewis

Mr. W. M. Lewis, the noted singing evangelist, who will appear at Pleasant Green Baptist Church, Elliott and Wash Sts., Monday night, March 30, where he will assist the Rev. J. K. Parker in his revival services until after Easter Sunday, April 22.

Mr. Lewis is a native of the state of Texas, and although a very young man, he has become quite noted as a gospel singer. Few persons have the power to stir and edify an audience through song as he.

Since January 1 he has been acceptably serving the following leading churches of this city: Central Baptist,

Metropolitan A. M. E. Zion, Union Memorial M. E. St. Paul A. M. E. and Lane Tabernacle C. M. E. Church. He is now assisting Rev. Wallace, at Filgrin's Chapel C. M. E. Church, East St. Louis, Ill. He is a young man, who has dedicated his talent to his race, and consecrated his voice to the Master's service and God has endowed him with wonderful power, making his voice the instrument by which hundreds of human hearts have been touched and made to publicly confess and receive their sinners and desire to walk in the light of the gospel. Come and hear him.

Testimonials From Some Of The Patrons Of TRESSA HAIR PARLOR

Miss Wilena Withey of 3332 Pine St. St. Louis, Mo. Writes

I am a strong advocate of the Tressa Method. When I began taking the Tressa Treatments my hair was very short, stubby and uneven. Madam Mays' Magic Hair Grower has made it wonderfully and I heartily recommend "Tressa," the Magic Hair Oil, to all who desire a growth of thick, long hair in short time. I am still taking the Tressa treatments, and am more than pleased to submit my picture to show actual results of the Tressa Method.

I can say gladly and truly that the Madam Mays' Hair Grower has really worked marvelously for me. One year ago my hair was not more than three inches long, but by using the Magic Hair Grower "Tressa" according to directions, my hair is now 12 inches long and thick in port and growing constantly. I will be very pleased to show my picture some future time. I highly recommend "Tressa," Madam Mays' Magic Hair Grower. It gives actual results. Mrs. C. A. Douglas, 2824 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo.

Hundreds of such testimonials have been received by me. Once tried, you will always use Tressa Hair Treatment. Agents wanted on our profit sharing plan. Call or write MME. E. W. May, Pres. Phone Belmont 1407

THEATRES

ALL STAR CAST AT THE BOOKER WASHINGTON THEATRE

An all star cast at the Booker Washington Theatre this week is giving the patrons one of the best shows in the career of Mr. Turpin's popular playhouse. Ed Green, a peculiar eccentric comedian, opens the show with an act that is an oddity in the extreme. It opens with a photo sketch of an automobile joy ride, after which Green steps on to the stage as if out of the screen. Mr. Green then puts over a line of singing, dancing and talking that goes big, leaving the audience crying for more. The next act, The Melville, is a decided novelty. The female member is seen in a series of artistic poses, representing famous characters of fiction, national emblems and feminine characteristics. She is assisted by pictures, in colors, thrown on a screen to serve as a background. It is not only beautiful, but a wonderful and ingenious originality.

Johnnie Woods, the greatest of all ventriloquists, assisted by "Little Henry," is back with a new line of talk as catchy as ever. This is sufficient to assure everyone that the act is carrying the house by storm. Montgomery and McClain, assisted by Buster Austin, one of the most promising young comedians in Colored vaudeville, closes the bill with a repertoire of songs, dances and eccentricity that wins fervent applause. Miss McClain, the beautiful little strawberry blond, clearly demonstrates her popularity. Montgomery and Austin in burlesque comedy roles furnish the fun and round out a clever and entertaining act.

NEXT WEEK AT THE BOOKER WASHINGTON THEATRE

VILLA AT THE MOVIE

A photo-play most timely is "The Outlaw's Revenge," showing Mexico's bloody revenge. It is a four-part Mutual picture, showing the life of Gen. Villa, whom the American soldiers are pursuing at the present hour. Why Villa became a bandit and later a revolutionary leader; the insult to his younger sister and other features will be seen at the Movie Theater Sunday. It is pronounced by critics a true and interesting epoch in the History of Mexico.

COMET THEATRE TO SHOW "THE IRON CLAW"

To satisfy the demand of his patrons, Mr. Zimmerman, manager of the Comet, has decided to run the great serial play, "The Iron Claw." The photo-play had been left off the Comet program because he was already running three serials, but so many have requested it that it will be shown every Monday, commencing the 20th. Be sure to see the first installment.

You Must Personally Bring This Adv.

Bell Telephone: Cabany 1916.

rather, foes are made friends, lost property is recovered, the mist is brushed away from business ventures, the hand is so guided that failures are averted, the earth's surface is explored, its treasures laid bare to his mysterious perceptive mind, and while he gives names, dates, facts and figures, his visitor sits dumfounded at the revelations he makes to him. He is surely a man of the pasturing time.

GLADSTONE is not a clairvoyant from choice, but because fate has so decreed it. His ancestors were powerful mediums and have for ages handed down their wonderful power of gift from generation to generation. No matter what your present trouble may be or what your past experience has been, you will save time and avoid disappointment by at once consulting Gladstone.

NOTE—Gladstone answers no letters. If you cannot call in person, do not write, as his time is fully occupied with his personal callers.
